THE ARMY OF PENSIONERS. On the first of July, 1888 there were upon the pension rolls of the United States 452,557 names. The smount of money paid to pensioners for the fiscal year ending July first 1888, was $78,775,-861, which was one-third of the entire outlay of the general government During the last year there were 60,252 original pension claims allowed. The pensioners are classed as follows Thirty-seven are revolutionary pensioners, all being widows of men who served in that war. There are now no sprvivors of that war.

There are 11,593 pensioners of the war of 1812, of these only 806 are men, and 10,787 ere wido #s.

There are 21,164 pensioners of the Mexican war, and of these 16,060 are survivors, and 5,104 era widows.

There are 419,763 pensioners of the war of the rebellion, of whom 326,835 are soldiers and sailors, and 92,928 are widows and dependent children. The number of pensioners by states is

"For years the people of this country had believe, and they had reason to believed, that when the democracy came in. to power, when they got access to the books and the accounts of the governm nt, there would be a revelation of malfeasance, of corruption, and of plunder which would cover with shame a majority of the republican officials of the previous twenty years, and would pro duce such a condition of the public judge ment that the republican party would never be restored.

"But there has been no such revelation With the exception of the navy department alone the whole effort and effect of Mr. Cleveland and his assistants has been to give a clean bill of health to their republican predecessors. Nothing gists. has been discovered. Nothing has been revealed. According to Mr. Cleveland and assistants, with the one exception we have mention, all the republican administrations have been honestly and March next, and participate in the imwisely conducted. There has been no perversion of the the public fund. There has been no abuse of public authority.

This is from the New York Sun, Democratic, and it reads pretty well long side Mr. Cleveland's attacks on his republican predecessors. Reports of industrial progress in the southern states come in so steadily and so numerously as to be almost bewildering. Enterprises of varied character ar being established everywhere, for in creasing and diversifying the natural products of the country, and for manufacturing those products on the spot into finished goods for use. Naturally, this to D. E. Stevens, of Albany. Mr. Stevens of affairs is accompanied by a great ens soon become a resident of this place growth of protection ideas in that part of sgain. the country. As an exponent of these ideas a bright little paper, named "The last Thursday night. The critics call it Protectionist," has just been started at as good a lecture as has been given in Birmingham, Ala, 'intended', it says, "to promote, maintain and defend the club of this place last Friday night was a typical American system of protection to grand success. home capital, exterprise and labor, and to bulletin the progress of the industrial New South under the operation of that beneficent saytem." It is under that system alone that an industrial New South is possible, and that that fact is being so generally realized and acted upon is the most hopeful sign of the times in all those states.

There is food for reflection in the night the 22d. course of four democratic members of the Arkersas legislature. They have reagainst them that they were elected by means of the theft of six poll-legislature. Their claims to seats in the legislature do not rest on better grounds than Breckinridge's claim to a seat in congress from the second district where Clayton was murdered.

Some of the democrate in congressn fact a good many of them-are trying to make all the blunders they can before they go out of power. Taey dou't proose to go back on their record.

GHASTLY WORK.

Bodies Out of the Ruins.

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 20.—Up to 10 o'clock this morning seventeen dead had been taken from the ruins of the Park Central Action of tral hotel, and ten injured, who were sent

The militia have been kept on continuous duty, as the police force is not strong enough to keep back the crowds who press around those engaged in digging out the debris of the wrecked hotel, and hinder work. Shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday morning two bodies were discovered, but so deeply buried among the debris and broken timbers that it will be some time before they can be extricated. They are recognized as those of Hotel Clerk Perry and Rev. Dr. Perrin. The remaining wall of the hotel will be pulled down, as it is in so dangerous a condition it is likely to fall at any time and bury those remaining in the ruins still deeper. The two engineers of the hotel have been held under $10,000 bonds by the coroner.

BIG BLAZE IN PHILADELPHIA.

Fire Raging in the Wool and Cotton District of the Quaker City.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 20.—Flames were discovered about 10 o'clock this morning in Blankenburg's importing house on Bank street. The fire is still burning fiercely and spreading. One man has been suffocated. The origin of the fire is unknown, but an explosion followed immediately after the discovery of the flames. The building was a solid, six-story structure, and extended from Bank to Strawberry street. An instant after the explosion, which occurred in the basement, the whole building was in flames, the fire ex-tending to the roof and baffling the firemen

Both streets are huilt up with large com-mercial houses, and each is stored with valable goods. About fifteen minutes after the breaking out of the fire the flames spread to the opposite side of Strawberry street. The big linen and white goods houses of Donald & Co. and of M. J. Kelly took fire, but the firemen after a hard fight got the fire here under control. The buildings, however, were badly burned and the goods were almost wholly destroyed. Meanwhile the flames were making ravages on Bank street. The building at 11, occupied by Thompson, Faust & Co., jobbers in notions and knit jackets, and at 15, occupied by Campion & Co., blankets, which adjoins Blankenburg's building, were now burning, while at 20 Strawberry street, occupied by James Doak & Co. and Risbrough Brothers, and the eastern end of Thompson, Faust & Co.'s big place, were also on fire. On Second street the roof of 26, occupied by Lewis S. Hall, dry goods, caught and cost of ten thousand dollars; to provide the building and stock were ruined. The big instalment house of Philip J. Walsh, adjoining the latter on the south, was also badly damaged, his greatest loss being caused by water. He places his damage alone at $25,000. The total loss at this time is estimated at $1,000,000.

"BIG FOUR" BLAZE.

The Shops and Roundhouse of the Company at Cincinnati Burned. CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 20.-Shortly after 3 o'clock this morning the machine shops, car shops, and locomotive house of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago railway company were found to

A strong wind was blowing from the west and by the time the firemen arrived the gentire property was doomed. The building in which the fire started was a one-story wooden structure, and was soon not only ablaze itself, but sending firebrands into and upon all the other buildings. The department was out in its entire strength and devoted itself to preventing spread of the flames. The "big four" elevator was in great danger, but escaped. A span of the Cincinnati Southern railroad bridge's approach runs over the works, but being of iron no harm was done to it except the burning of a few ties, which were easily replaced. The loss to the railroad company's property was complete and is estimated by President Ingalls at $200,000, upon which there is an insurance of about one-half that sum. The machinery and buildings were valued at $150,000. There were two locomotives in the repair shops and three coaches in the car shops.

HURT IN A COLLISION.

Two Trains on the Grand Trunk Railway Come Together. MONTREAL, Canada, Feb. 20.—A disastrous collision occurred Monday hight on the Grand Trunk railway between two passenger trains near St. Hyacinthe, forty miles tonvale, was run into by the through express from Portland, Me. The crash was a frightful one, both engines being smashed to pieces. The engineers and firemen managed to save their lives by jumping into the deep snow banks beside the track. The shock the collision was felt most severely by the passengers in the first-class cars, who were thrown violently from their seats. L. J. Lussier, a wealthy merchant of St. Hyacinthe, was badly, and it is feared fatally, injured. M. Lusher, a Montreal merchant, also sustained severe injuries. Several other passengers were more or less badly bruised. Traffic was delayed several hours. and the wreck was only cleared away Tues-day morning. The blame for the accident is put on the station agent at St. Madeline station, who had orders to detain the local train, and neglected to do so.

GEORGIA'S AWFUL CYCLONE

Sixteen People Known to Have Perished in the Storm. ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 20.—The cyclone in Banks county last night did some terrible work. It is now known that the house of Thomas Stevenson was blown to pieces and the whole family lifted into the air. Stevenson and one of his sons were blown into a tree and killed. The remainder of the family were seriously if not fatally injured. William Meadow's house, near by, was torn into fragments and his wife killed. Twelve other persons were killed by falling timbers. The storm passed on to Nicholson, where a dozen houses were torn from their foundations and scattered in all directions.

An Eastern Strike Settled. the reaper works of D. M. Osborne & Co. was declared off at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, just after the company had a long conference with the committee of the strikers. The factory has been idle for ten 25 per cent over last season's wages, 35 per cent more than they were receiving when they quit work. The firm has granted an advance, but not all that was asked for.

Youngstown Gets a Scorching. Youngstown, Ohio, Feb. 20.-Three business blocks were burned early this morning, destroying the stock of seven merchants and manufacturers. The loss is $30,000; insurance small.

The Route Laid Out for Harrison's Journey to Washington. PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 20.—The schedule for President-elect Harrison's train from Indianapolis to Washington has been arranged. It will leave the former place over the Pennsylvania road at noon on Monday next, and arrive at its destination on Tuesday, the 26th instant, at 2:30 the afternoon. The train will consist of President Roberts' private car, two Pullman sleepers and a baggage car, and will be run as a section of the Atlantic express. No stops will be made between Indianapolis and Pittsburg except to change locomotives, and after leaving here will go through without further stop to Washington. The President and his family will occupy President Roberts' private car, which is now being renovated at the Altoona shops of the Pennsylvania railroad. The car has been repainted and refurnished in all the sumptuousness possible with the advanced art decorations of to-day. President Roberts gave personal directions in regard to the furnishing of the car, and when the work is completed it will in truth be a traveling

The State treas-urer is to be given permission at all times during banking hours to examine the books and accounts of any bank. Another bill was read which provides that no person shall, for a period of two years, hunt any woodcock, quail, partridge, pheasant, snipe grouse, or plover with dogs, the penalty being a fine of not less than $20 nor more than $100, or imprisonment in the county jail for from one to six months. An un usual number of bills by titles were presented, to be changed hereafter as occasion requires. To-morrow is the last day for the introduction of new business. Members are beginning to discuss the question of a time for final adjournment. It will not be before the middle of April. Bills were also introduced authorizing Milwaukee to issue bonds to erect a public library and museum building; appropriating $20,000 for the purpose of erecting a school of mines at Hurley. Twenty six petitions were presented in the Senat in favor of the joiners' local option bill. The joint resolution relating to the sucthe House Tuesday and received a good cession of the chief justice was concurred in. A bill was introduced enabling qualified voters of any town, village, or city within this State to determine by ballot engrossed and to a third reading, and whether any spirituous, malt, or intoxicating liquors drank shall be sold therein

MICHIGAN LAWS. Bills Before the Legislature to Create a State Constabulary. LANSING, Mich., Feb. 20. -The most significant birls presented in the Legislature Tuesday were two providing for a State constabulary to enforce all enactments relating to the liquor traffic. Mr. Damon first provides that "all ordinances making any appropriation shall, within one month presented his bill of two years ago on the same subject, which was defeated then only by a narrow margin. It provides for a State marshal, giving him power to appoint a deputy for each county. Mr. Heineman has a bill of the same sort, but published in such district, or if no such copies of the same in three public places in ft specifies that a deputy shall be appointed for each Senatorial district. There will be the district, and no such ordinance shall for each Senatorial district. There will be take effect until ten days after they are so a bitter fight over the two bills. Two bills were presented providing for an amenda ment to the constitution giving women the right to vote at municipal elections. Two others were presented, providing for conducting elections through the impartial nedium of voting machines. Mr. Dyer's proven by the certificate of the clerk under bill indorses the Ward and Hall machine and Mr. Wells' the Rhines machine. Mr. Wells introduced a bill providing that in distrementatives to the Legislature every voter may printed in book or pamphlet form and purporting to be published by author-ity of the board of trustees, the said cast as many votes for one candidate as dence of the passage and legal publication there are Representatives to be elected or of such ordinances, orders and resolutions he may cast one vote for each of the canas of the dates mentioned in such book or didates. A measure was introduced in the pamphlet, in all courts and places, without Senate for an assistant for the Attorney-General, and one in the House making the Railroad Commissioner the Commissioner of Warehouses as well, and providing for a rigid system of inspection by his deputies of all public elevators, and compelling the elevator people to procure licenses and give heavy bonds before they can conduct a grain storage business. The fifty days' limit for the introduction of bills ends Tuesday evening, and both houses were compelled to hold late sessions Tuesday night to enable the members to introduce LAWS FOR THE HOOSIERS.

Refuses to Divulge Some Secrets. LONDON, Feb. 20.-In the Parneil commission to-day Mr. Finch-Hatten was summoned before the court for contempt. The cross-examination of Mr. MacDonald, manager of the Times, was continued, and many inconsistencies in his testimony were brought out, seriously weakening the Times' case. The witness was asked to give the names of the persons who wrote the articles "Parnellism and Crime," as many are now said to have a hand in the work. He declined to give up the names of the contributors to the paper, as at present advised. It was contrary to the policy of the Times to make public the names of its writers. Judge Hannen said, nevertheless, the names must be produced. The private policy of the newspaper could not prevail against the law of the land.

ACREED TO. The Oklahoma Bill Favorably Reported in the Senate-Appropriation Bills Passed-Gossip.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.-After many hours consultation the conferrees on the omnibus teritorial bill have reached a conclusion, and to-night Messrs. Plattt and Springer prepared the report to accompany the return of the bill to the two Houses omorrow. The hill is agreed to by the conferrees fixes the names of the two Dakotas as North Dakota and South Dakota. The people of South Dakota are to vote upon the adoption of the Sioux Falls constitution May 14, and the location of the capital is to be settled by election. On the same date the residents of North Dakota, Washingtown, and Montana may vote for the election of delegates to constitutional conventions and for a full list of State officers. On the first Tuesday in October the people may vote upon the constitutions proposed by the conventions, and if adopted, after the President's proclamation to that effect the Governors of each may order an election of members of the Legislature and of Representatives in Congress. The Legislatures may meet and elect two Senators each in time to take their seats at the begining of the first regular session of the Fifty-first Congress, in December next, at which time the Representatives shall also be admitted to seats. These provisions apply also to the Senators and Representatives from South

The Day in Washington. WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. - The House took up the postoffice appropriation bill. In the Senate a letter was received from the Secretary of the Treasury in answer to the Senate resolution directing the examination and auditing of the claims of Penn sylvania for money expended in 1864 and for which reimbursement was ordered by act of Congress in that year. The secretary says his department is not aware of any law by which the secretary of the treasury could comply with the resolution. The act of 1864 gave the secretary of war exclusive jurisdiction in regard to claims. The motion to reconsider the vote by which the conference report on the direct tax bill was agreed to was defeated by a vote of 8 to 42. The Oklahoma bill, which gives an organization to the Indian Territory, was reported favorably to the Senate by the committee on territories Tuesday, and will be called up to-morrow if possible. On this bill the East will be arrayed against the West. Senators Platt of Connecticut and Dawes of Massachusetts will oppose its passage earnestly because they believe the interests of the Indians have not been protected and that this legislation is a violation of treaty rights. But the western men, and particularly those of Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Texas, and Colorado, will crowd it to its passage whether or no, and expect to succeed. The President in timated in a message sent to Congress some time ago that he would veto the bill in case it came to him in its present shape, but this intimation will have no effect upon its friends in the Senate.

Among the amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bill reported by the committee and agreed to by the Senate

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED Until the skin was raw. Body covered with scales like spots ticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your Cutteura Remedies performed on me. About the 1st ot last April I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, that thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales being formed meanwhile, were ery night until I was raw, then the next night the scales being formed, meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery. I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your Cuteura Remedies, and purchase them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly cruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the Cuticura Remedies, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My fore I began taking the Cuticura Remedies, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. > UATED. Characteristics of the Natives-How

> WHERE THE ISLANDS ARE SIT-

Germany Acquired a Foothold-Status of the Troubles.

There are eight of the Samoan islands. all volcanic in origin, and situated about nineteen hundred miles southwest of the Hawaiian group. They are in the direct line of the American steamers running from San Francisco to Auckland, New Zealand, and Sydney, and they possess unusual natural advantages, which are more valuable to the United States than to any other country. By treaty this country possesses the harbor of Pango-Pango, the most beautiful, the largest, and safest harbor in Polynesia, where the Navy Department has for a number of years had a coaling station. If either of the two projected canals is ever finished this will undoubtedly be the most important and valuable station in the Pacific, and in time of war would command nearly all of the commerce in that ocean, and would be invaluable to whatever power might possess it. Of its value and importance Germany is well aware. The Germans find it profitable to run a line of steamers from Sydney to Apia.

The climate is moist and tropical; cotton of the finest texture and coffee of the best quality are produced, and sugar-cane grows abundantly when planted. Copra, the dried kernel of the cocoanut, is the most important product. Annually many hundreds of tons are exported to Germany. Fruits of many tropical varieties grow in profusion, which with fish, taro, and breadfruit furnish food for the natives. The climate being warm, the natives require but little clothing, which usually consists of a piece of American cotton print, or native cloth made from the inner bark of a tree, worn about the loins. Their houses are simple, and are made of cocoa-nut leaves plaited together to form the sides, and roofs thatched with sugarcane leaves, much in the form of a big bee-

Physically the Samoans seem to be al most perfect. The men are large, wellproportioned, and handsome specimens of manhood. The women are gentle in disposition, graceful of form and movement, and attractive with their simple, natural manners. They have straight black hair, which, like their persons, they keep well-anointed with cocoanut oil. Like all Polynesians, they seem to be semi-aquatic—swim like fish, which they capture very cleverly in a number of ways. They are not a warlike people, but peaceable and quiet in disposition, and have a strong love for their homes. But, when aroused to fight, they become wild, cruel and desperate. With foreigners they are kind and generous and hospitable, and those whose fortune it may be to visit their homes cannot help becoming interested in them. Some one in writing of them has said, "Taking the Samoans for all and all, judging from their past and present condition, there is not a people more worthy of consideration Anti-Plaster, a new, nost agreeable, instantaneous and infallible pain killing claster, especially adapted to relieve Female Pains and Weakraces that they have so often and so earnestly sought our help to win."

Our limited space precludes an exhaustive statement of the Samoan question in its historical and diplomatical bearings; therefore we can only undertake to state the more salient points of the controversy, says Harper's Weekly. The Pacific is in many places studded with groups of islands,

MALIETOA. DEPOSED BY THE GERMANS. many of which are very fertile, and are mainly inhabited by copper-colored aborigines. So long as these were parts of continents still unclaimed, and it remained the aim of commerce to satisfy positive demands rather than to become world absorbing, very little notice was taken of the Pacific islands. During the last four decades ideas of commerce and a colonial policy have been revolutionized. During the 'forties France established a protectorate over the the Marquesas, Society, and Paumotu groups, and from that time on various European countries have parceled out these islands among themselves, generally without asking the consent of the inhabitants, and without protest from other Although the well-established policy of the United States of nearly a century's standing forbids a "coloial" policy, it in no way precludes a commercial one. Owing mainly to the good offices and wise foresight of the United States, European control has been kept out of the Hawaiian Islands, and their autonomy and independence secured. This result is a great gain to us. About the same policy was adopted toward the much more distant and less important Samoan Islands. Until within a little more than thirty years Samoa had no commerce, although United States and British consuls were first sent there over fifty years ago. About 1857 a powerful Hamburg firm selected Apia, the chief city of the islands, as a center of their operations in the South Pacific. American interests in Samoa may be said to have begun about 1827. In 1878 a treaty was made whereby the United States was granted a coaling station in the harbor of Pango-Pango. In 18.3 a special agent was sent to the United States with the request that she should protect all of the islands. But neither then nor later has the United States wished to assume a protectorate. Owing to the half-civilized condition of the Samoans, and frequent bloody rivalries among themselves, no adequate protection was given to foreigners. To secure this a convention was in 1879 entered into by the English, German, and American consuls for the purpose of establishing a good local government for the town and adjacent territory of Apia. This was signed only by the two former, but the American consul co-operated with them. Although there has been a constant contention among the chiefs for the kingship, King Malietoa was the representative of the native authority by which the foreign treaties had been made, and it was therefore considered to be the better policy to countenance him as the cre most likely to bring about stable

raised the German flag.

The financial and local interests of the Germans in Samoa have far outstripped those of any other nation. The British and the Americans each lay claim to about twice as much land as the Germans, but unfortunately this is no criterion. The Germans are the only ones who have invested large sums of money in the improvement and systematic cultivation of their lands. They own and work enormous plantations, employing hundreds of laborers. From the basis of these facts the Germans have assumed a right to control Samoan affairs. They began in 1880 by encouraging the native opposition in a war upon Malietoa. In November, 1884, the Germans intimidated the weak King Malietoa into signing a treaty whereby nearly the entire control of Samoan affairs was surrendered to the Germans. When Malietoa, a little later, refused to carry out this convention, and gave offense to the German Consul-General in some other respects, they seized the sovereign rights of the King in the municipality of Apia, and drove him from his seat of government at Mulinuu and assume the authority of extending to Malietoa, and his possessions the formal protectorate of the United States. This MEETING OF TARIFF REFORM action was promptly disavowed by our government, and Germany and England so informed. That order might be re-established on a firm basis, the Secretary of State proposed to Lord Salisbury and Prince Bismarck that representatives of the three powers devise a plan for the election of a suitable chief by the natives, who should be upheld by England, Germany, and the United States. The plan was adopted, and in the summer of 1886 each power first sent a commissioner to Samoa to make a report on its condition. The conference first met in Washington in June, 1887. After several sittings, no agreement having been reached, the conference adjourned until autumn, in order that each member might consult his Government. It was still taken as a matter of course that the status quo would be preserved. But Germany had a way of her She resolved to act independently, TAMASESE. SUPPORTED BY THE GERMANS. protect her own interests, and demand satisfaction of Malieton for the past and guarantees for the future. The demands of the German consul were humiliating and overbearing in the extreme, and of such a nature that it must have been foreseen (and probably so intended) that Malietoa could not comply with them in the few hours allowed him. Two days later the revolutionist Tamasese was proclaimed King by the German consul in spite of the protest of those of Great Britain and the United States. For two or three weeks Malietoa was a fugitive, but afterward he was taken on board the flag-ship of the German

Thus the Germans, by making fine diplomatic phrases and benevolent promises to Great Britain and the United States, while carrying out a nameless policy toward the weak and half-civilized, gained all but the full control of affairs in Samoa. Their actions during the past few months have differed from their earlier ones mainly in degree merely, and are of too recent date to make their mention necessary. In regard to our future position it is important for us to bear in mind that Germany's policy's toward the Samoans, however soulless, does not of itself call for any counter action on our part. Much as we may regret it, there is no treaty between the United States and Germany to whose wording we can point as evidence of the latter's bad faith toward us. Nor is there any treaty between the United States and Samoa which bids us take up mittee on permanent organization be aparms in her behalf. We promised our pointed. The motion was adopted, and without measure to our poor, imbecile sister. For any injuries suffered by the persons or property of Americans in Samoa we shall certainly demand and doubtless readily receive full- compensation. Furthermore, we have a moral right to say, if to the location of the islands and our commerce, however small, Germany shall not retain a controlling influence in Samoa; but it is not at present necessary to argue.

LINCOLN'S MAIDEN SPEECH.

The Words With Which He First Asked for the Votes of the People. Judgo Bell of Mount Carmel, Ill. furnishes the following maiden speech of Abraham Lincoln, delivered in Pappsville, near Springfield, Ill., nearly fifty years ago. Mr. Lincoln was not then a lawyer and had no intention of becoming a lawyer. He had then made up his mind to learn the blacksmith trade. His genius was recognized and he was suddenly nominated for the Legislature. His first speech is most in teresting reading at this time. It was as

"Gentlemen and fellow-citizens: I presume you all know who I am. I am humble Abraham Lincoln. I have been solicited by many friends to become a candidate for the Legislature. My politics are short and sweet. I am in favor of a national bank; am in favor of the internal improvement system and a high protective tariff. These are my sentiments and political principles. If elected, I shall be thankful; if not, it will be all the same "

FOR TARIFF REFORM

A Permanent Organization Perfected-President Cleveland's Views on the Subjects.

ADVOCATES.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. -Three hundred representatives who believe in tariff reform assembled at the Madison Street theater Tuesday at the opening of the National Tariff Reform association. The assemblage represented every degree of opposition to the protective system, and was composed of politicians, labor reformers, writers, teachers, and business men from seventeen States. The temper of the convention was a good-humored toleration of all views, provided they were in the direction of a modification of the present tariff. The mention of President Cleveland's name was roundly applauded, and when the reading of his letter began the applause continued for a minute and broke out again at the conclusion. The talk among the delegates as they mixed with each other around the hotels, is to bring the convention toward positive declarations in favor of free trade. The debate to-day will probably test the feeling definitely. When the convention came to order the body of the theater was nearly filled with delegates and spectators. A few ladies were in the boxes.

Mr. John Z. White, corresponding secretary of the American Tariff Reform league, called the assembly to order, read the call, and introduced Mr. E. Burritt Smith of Chicago, who was selected by the committee on arrangements for temporary chairman. Mr. Smith, in taking the gavel, said in part:

"We believe that the time has come to press home to the American people the inquiry whether a man is free who is required to pay taxes to his neighbor; that the time is at hand when the tariff is to be revised by those who do not enjoy the peculiar privileges of its friends, by those who will have no reason to sacrifice the taxes on whisky and tobacco in order to perpetuate its abuses, by those who hold that the great power of taxation should only be used for public purposes and not for the creation and maintenance of a wealthy Socialistic class.

"The net result is a tariff for protection with incidental revenue; in other words, a tariff for private gain with incidental public revenue The stupendous tariff rates of the war (in many cases increased) remain. Revenue taxes of all kinds, except on whisky, tobacco and sugar, have disappeared, and these exceptions are seriously threatened by the great party of moral ideas, 'fat,' and 'floaters in blocks of five.' After much revision of the tariff by its friends most of our national taxes are not only unequal and unjust, but they have even the merit of being levied for public purposes. In the course of your proceed. ings we shall lay before you some definite plans for advancing the work of the league.'

By the suggestion of Mr. Robert D. Mc-Fadon, John Z. White, W. A. Gardner and Fred Ward were made a committee to make a roll of the delegates. The register will be at the Palmer House headquarters. Mr. McFadon also proposed that a com-"good offices," and those we have given the following were appointed: W. T. Baker, Volney Foster, Byron T. Stout, W. Codman and C. D. Hamill.

Mr. McFadon, who represented the Chicago committee of arrangements, then moved that a committee of twenty-one on we are prepared to fight for it, that owing | resolutions be appointeds and that to them all resolutions be referred without debate. This motion, amended to include one or more from each State, was adopted. The whother or no we ought to take that stand appointment of the committee was left to the permanent chairman. Impromptu three minute speeches were then indulged in by the prominent delegates, among whom were Henry George of New York, W. G. Brownlee of Detroit, John Hopkins of Syracuse, N. Y., Eugene M. Wilson of Minnesota, J. A. Campbell of Iowa, and Gov. Buckner of Kentucky. Mr. Catlin of the committee on permanent organization announced the selection of ex-Gov. J. Sterling Morton for perma nent chairman. Stepping forward with valiant air Mr. Morton said he would rather preside over the convention which he believed represented honest principles than to be chairman of a national political convention. "The conservator of all human affairs, ' said he, "is the principles we represent. We are not here to engage in the jugglery of diction, but to put into potent action-principles. It shall be our province to state the truth to the people, and that is that it is unjust to tax all of us for the benefit of a few of us. The tariff has been formed for robbery. It must be reformed for revenue or repealed for justice. The ideal of to-day shall be the real of tomorrow." The other officers of the convention are: Vice-Presidents-Charles W. Deering, Illinois; Horace White, New York; Henry A. Robinson, Michigan; Enoch Harpole, Kansas; E. W. Judd, Massachusetts; S. W. Wilbains, Indiana; Jesse Metcalf, Rhode Island; R. B. Kirkland, Wisconsin; Gov. Simon B. Buckner, Kentucky; K. G. Harper, Iowa; E. M. Wilson, Minnesota; J. D. Hancock, Pennsylvania: J. Lawrence Dunham, Connecticut; Harbert Boggs, New Jersey, and J. Q. Smith, Ohio. Secretaries-Aretas W. Thomas, Texas;

Walter H. Page, Massachusetts; J. Lawrence Dunham, Connecticut, and John Z. White and W. E. Thome, Illinois. A large number of resolutions were presented and referred. C. G. McDougal of Handforth, Ill., representing the farmers of the convention, offered a resolution which reads thus: "We believe, with our facilities for transportation and exchange, which enable us to produce upon our land the crop that yields the largest returns, with our long hours of labor, and above all with our uuequaled soil and climate, that we are able -in fact always have been and always will be able-to compete in the markets of the world in the sale of agricultural products."

President Cleveland's Letter. The secretary then read the letter of President Cleveland. It said: "EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—Jonn Z. White, Esq., Secretary American Tariff-Reform League - Dear Sir: I have received the invitation of the American Tariff-Reform League to be present at the convention of tariff-reformers to be held in the city of Chicago on the 19th, 20th and 21st of February,

"I have also received the circular of the league accompanying this invitation, in which the object and purposes of the proposed convention are specifically set forth. "The scheme of practical and efficient work described therein meets with my hearty approval, and promises, if honestly adhered to, the most valuable aid in the furtherance of a cause which is very dear to the interests and welfare of our people. The danger which we have to guard against is the misleading of our countrymen by specious theories, cunningly contrived and The Santa Fe Route is now running a Pull nan Vestibule Sleeping Car from personal burdens and the legitimate expenses to San Dioce. beneficent rule under the sanction of free institutions.

"The declared purposes of your league will not be attained until all those inan unequailed accommodation for pas- structed in the economic question which is now pressed upon their attention are freed from all sophistries and clouding and fallacies and until the subject of tariff reform is presented to them as a topic involving the relief of the plain people of the land in their homes from useless and unjust ex-

"The question is a simple and plain one, and needs but to be fairly presented to be understood. "It is the positive duty of your organization to guard the people against deception. "My extreme interest in the work which our league has undertaken, and in the expressed objects of the proposed convention, would lead me to accept your invitation if it were possible to do so. But my public duties here positively prevent such acceptance.

"Hoping that the convention will be very successful, and with an earnest wish for the prosperity and success of your league in its efforts to enlighten and bene fit the people, I am yours very truly, GROVER CLEVELAND.

Myers Opera House went down in es of flame this afternoon. Twenty minutes from the time the first alarm was given the four walls of the building were but a vast brick cauldron in which raged and seethed great waves of fire that

Insurance.

The fire was discovered shortly after wo. It was then a blaze, small of itsel but portentous in its possible conse querces, in the room beneath the stage. It had started within a few feet of the stage entrance on Bluff street.

At a glance it was seen that unless the fismes were checked before they penethe ceiling above stage were useless. The alarm was soundel at the east side engine house, while handgrenades and every other means at hand were applied to check the tlames until the department should arrive. But the fire had found lodgment in material too well adapted to its spread. When the firemen arrrived, the room beneath the stage was filled with fire and smoke. "Take care of the stage first of all! If the fire gets among the scenery the house is gone!" was the warning, but minutes that seemed hours passed before a stream of water strong enough to be of service could be secured.

A moment later a flash of light came from the stage window. The building was doomed.

From the time the flames gained lodgement above the lower floor, it seemed hardly a moment before the whole interior of the opera house was a pit of flame Fire poured from every window and a canopy of smoke and flame crowned the Twenty minutes from the sounding [cf the alarm there was a crash, a burst of he describes as a bustling and growing flame, and half the Bluff street wall was a shapeless mass of brick, scattered from curb to curb. Five minutes later an-Special drives in hosiery and Jersey other section of the wa'l fell, and only the front was left standing.

It was a fierce fire but one that gave signs of being speedily spent. At half past three the flames were growing less intense. The danger was that fire might gain lodgement in the hotel.

Against this every effort of the department was directed. Slowly the flames were brought under control and at halfpart three the danger was practically

LATER.

At four o'clock the origin of the fire was still unknown. The general belief is that sparks found escape in some way from the heating apparatus which was near where the flames were first seen.

J. H. Jones' stock was insured for $3,500 with J. G. Saxe and Mark Rip

Mr. Steele of "The Magnet" whose furniture in his suite of rooms in the Myers House was entirely destroyed was insured for $200 with Silas Hayner. His loss is estimated at $600.

THE WORK OF THE FLAMES.

PROPERTY THAT WAS DESTROYED - NO IN

Besides the opera house of which nothing remains but the side wall, there was destroyed property aggregating twenty thousand dollars. The opera house itself will bring the total above fifty thousand.

On none of the opera house property was there any insu rence. The stock in store s underneath was insured, but to dinner. Afternoon, an especially arwhat extent is not yet known. The stores beneath on East Milwaukee street were completely gutted and are now in ruins. There were occupied as follows: for the state of Nebraska where there is

THE WORK OF THE FIREMEN.

UNAVAILING EFFORTS TO CHECK THE RAY AGE OF THE FLAMES.

The alarm was turned in at 2:15 from box 28, located at the east side engine house, and word was given the men that the fire was in the Myers house. The east side hose company attached a line of hose to the hydrant at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets, and laid a line east on the latter street, arriving at the Bluff street corner of the opera house. The men discovered the location of the fire to be under the stage of the opera attend the funeral of our late brother house. This required a line of six hun | Knight, the Rev. J. G. was not sufficient at first to make an impression on the fire?

The west side hose company as quickly laid a line of hose from the bydrant on Bruff street opposite the opera house and turned on water at the same time with the other company.
